2) In addition you will participate in 2 pre-recorded 4-hour workshops:

- Workshop: “Loving Myself More Fully”

A practical workshop to explore different paths to improve self-care and self-love. You will develop an action plan to nourish yourself internally and take better care of yourself in all areas of your life. This self-care is absolutely critical when serving others as a Practitioner. Daniel gives examples from his life, because “Loving myself and taking care of myself are among the things I do best!”

- Workshop: “Let the animals show you the way: Guidance, Courage, and hope in these difficult times”

A practical workshop to bring clarity to the next steps in your journey. By the end of the workshop you will be able to see more clearly how to move forward in various areas of your life. Daniel presents a new, simple, and effective technique for dialoguing with an animal of your choice in order to receive guidance both during the workshop and afterward.

3) You will study and work with Daniel’s book “The Healing Path”. This book has been published in French language and English speakers will receive a PDF copy of the book in english.

“The Healing Path Essences” are a range of 7 combinations that are critically important when working with clients and their unresolved emotional issues. The Healing Path Essences provide powerful support for healing unresolved emotional wounds from the recent or distant past. Understanding and working with the Healing Path will help you support your clients when they face old baggage that needs to be healed and resolved. This book provides the most in-depth teaching that Daniel has developed about the Healing Path and the emotional healing process. It includes exercises that you can both use yourself and offer to your clients.
